Vocalists rarely practise with a click, but timing matters just as much in the voice.

Rhythm of the words

Speak the lyrics in rhythm with a click first. It shows where you metronome rush.

Entries and cut-offs

Work on precise entries and clean releases.

Plan your breaths

Mark where you breathe and practise it in tempo to avoid late entries.

Recording

Studios often record metronome vocals to a click, so practising with one at home makes sessions easier.
