Harris County Courts 18 Wheeler Accident Lawyer Most Houston truck crash lawsuits are filed in Harris County, one of the busiest court systems in the country. Knowing how cases move through its district courts, and what local juries expect, helps a lawyer prepare a case properly from day one. Texas changed the rules for commercial vehicle cases in 2021. In many truck crash lawsuits, the trucking company can now ask for a split trial, where the jury decides the driver's negligence and the damages first and only then hears evidence about the company's own negligence. Texas Truck Accident Lawyer plans its cases around these rules from the start. The firm has recovered $5,000,000 in a Harris County commercial vehicle red-light crash and $2,000,000 in a Harris County wide-turn crash. Past results don't guarantee future outcomes, but they reflect real experience with Harris County trucking cases. The 2021 changes also limit some kinds of evidence in the first phase of trial, such as certain information about a driver's past, unless it relates directly to the crash. That means the strongest evidence against the company may only come in later. Planning for that structure affects which witnesses are called, which experts are hired and how the story of the case is told. The firm builds each case so it holds together in both phases and the jury gets a clear picture of what really happened.

Spanish-speaking clients are welcome, and the firm offers Spanish-language information so families can understand every step. Houston is a city of many communities, and nobody should miss out on fair compensation because the legal system feels confusing. The team takes the time to explain your options, the paperwork and the process in a way that makes sense to you and your family. A crash with an 18 wheeler is rarely simple. There may be several companies involved, several insurance policies and a stack of federal rules that apply to the driver and the truck. Sorting through all of it takes time and experience, and it's work you shouldn't have to do while you're trying to heal. Don't wait for the trucking company to make the first move. Call (832) 250-4888 to speak with Texas Truck Accident Lawyer about your 18 wheeler crash. The consultation is free, there's no fee unless the firm wins, and you can meet at the West Loop South office in Uptown Houston or by phone if travel is hard right now.

FAQ About 18 Wheeler Accident Lawyer Houston How long do I have to file an 18 wheeler accident claim in Texas? In most cases you have two years from the crash to file a lawsuit in Texas, and wrongful death claims usually have two years from the date of death. Claims involving a government vehicle or agency can require written notice much sooner. Texas Truck Accident Lawyer checks every deadline that applies to your Houston crash during a free consultation at (832) 250-4888. Who can be held responsible for an 18 wheeler crash in Houston? Responsibility can extend beyond the driver to the motor carrier, the trailer owner, the shipper or loader, the maintenance provider and sometimes a parts manufacturer or freight broker. Container trucks around the Port of Houston often involve several of these parties at once. The firm investigates each one so every source of insurance coverage is found. What should I do right after an 18 wheeler accident? Call 911, get medical care and, if you can, photograph the truck, its USDOT number, the trailer and the scene. Get witness names and numbers, and don't give a recorded statement to the trucking company's insurer. Then call a Houston truck accident lawyer so evidence such as ELD logs and dash camera footage can be preserved quickly. How much does an 18 wheeler accident lawyer cost in Houston? Texas Truck Accident Lawyer works on a contingency fee, so there's nothing to pay upfront and no attorney's fee unless money is recovered for you. The fee percentage is explained clearly before you sign anything. The firm also covers the cost of experts and investigators while the case moves forward. What evidence matters most in an 18 wheeler case? Key evidence includes the truck's engine control module data, electronic logging device records, dash and cab camera footage, the driver qualification file and maintenance records. Some of this can be overwritten within days, which is why the firm sends preservation demands to the carrier immediately and aims to interview witnesses within 48 hours. Can I still recover if I was partly at fault for the truck crash? Yes, as long as you were not more than 50 percent responsible. Texas uses proportionate responsibility, so your recovery is reduced by your share of fault. Trucking insurers often try to shift blame onto the other driver, and the firm uses truck data, witness accounts and crash reconstruction to keep fault assigned fairly. How much insurance do trucking companies have to carry? Federal rules require most interstate carriers hauling general freight to carry at least $750,000 in liability coverage, with higher minimums for oil and certain hazardous materials. Many carriers also have excess or umbrella policies. The firm identifies every policy that applies, including coverage held by trailer owners and shippers. Why are 18 wheeler crashes so common in Houston? Houston combines the Port of Houston, the Ship Channel petrochemical plants, major freight corridors like I-10, I-45 and I-69 and huge distribution centers along Beltway 8 and the Grand Parkway. That volume of heavy truck traffic mixed with commuter traffic and frequent construction leads to crashes every day across Harris County. Do I have to talk to the trucking company's insurance adjuster? No. You aren't required to give a recorded statement to the other side's insurer, and doing so can hurt your claim later. Once you hire Texas Truck Accident Lawyer, all calls with the insurers go through the legal team so you can focus on recovering. Will my 18 wheeler accident case go to trial? Most truck cases settle, but the firm prepares every case as if it will go to trial because that preparation tends to produce better offers. Harris County truck cases may also be tried in phases under Texas rules adopted in 2021. You always make the final decision on whether to accept a settlement. Can I get help if I don't speak English well? Yes. Texas Truck Accident Lawyer serves Spanish-speaking clients across Houston and offers Spanish-language information so families understand each step. Consultations are free and confidential and can take place at the West Loop South office, by phone or by video.
