At its core, a Crash video game is a variation of a multiplier-based game of chance. Unlike conventional gambling establishment video games like live roulette or blackjack, Crash uses a distinct, real-time visual mechanic that keeps gamers on the edge of their seats.

The facility is basic: a multiplier starts at 1.00 x and begins to climb up up. A virtual item-- often represented as a rocket, a jet, or a terrorist with a C4 charge-- ascends, and the multiplier increases along with it. The objective for the player is to "squander" before the multiplier randomly "crashes."

If a gamer cashes out at 2.50 x, they win their preliminary wager multiplied by 2.50. However, if the video game crashes before they cash out, they lose their whole bet for that round.

How a Standard Round Works

- 1. The Betting Phase: Players are provided a brief window (usually 10 to 15 seconds) to position their bets. Bets can typically be made using CS: GO/CS2 weapon skins (which are valued in site currency) or cryptocurrency/fiat, depending upon the platform.
- 2. The Launch: Once the wagering window closes, the multiplier starts at 1.00 x and starts ticking upward.
- 3. The Flight: As the multiplier increases, players view the chart climb. Tension builds due to the fact that the video game can crash at literally any 2nd-- even at 1.00 x.
- 4. The Cash Out: Players click the "Cash Out" button whenever they pick. Their payment is locked in at that precise multiplier.

5. The Crash: The game stops climbing up at a predetermined, randomly created point. Those who failed to squander before this point lose their bets.
