Nora Jenkins HGR Drug Rehabs San Diego CEO Leadership The quality of leadership in an addiction treatment program has a direct effect on the culture of care that clients experience, and at HGR Drug Rehabs San Diego California that leadership is provided by Honora "Nora" Jenkins, the CEO who has built a clinical and operational culture that is reflected in the program's consistent 5.0-star rating. Former 24/7 rehab San Diego CA clients mention Nora by name in their reviews in a way that is unusual even for highly rated treatment programs, which reflects a level of personal involvement and genuine commitment that sets the tone for the entire organization. Nora Jenkins is thanked directly in a review from Russel, who completed the IOP program while continuing to work and achieved significant sobriety through the program. He credits Nora and her caring staff specifically, and the company's response to his review, which welcomes him back to visit and calls him part of the Harmony Grove Recovery family, reflects the same warmth and personal investment. Another former client describes HGR as unlike the other California drug and alcohol addiction treatment centers he had attended prior, a comparison that speaks to the specific difference that the culture and quality of the program make in the actual experience of treatment and recovery.
